

CASKETS OF Bell children were loaded two per hearse for final ride to New Crown Cemetery.

PIERCING RAYS of sun, signifying the end of a brief rain shower, did little Saturday to abate grief expressed by mourners. The services they were attending in Stuart Mortuary are a rarity in Indiana, combined rites conducted for six relatives spanning three generations: Mrs. Mary A. Kirby, 54; Mrs. Bertha Mae Bell, 26; King Edward Bell II, 6; Berlins Michell, 4; Berkina Rochess, 2, and Kingston Edward Bell, 1. Conspiciously absent was King Edward Bell, accused murderer of the six. The mortuary's chapel, one of the city's finest, was filled beyond capacity and a battery of news media cameramen milled around outside, barred from entering. It was another macabre chapter in the city's largest mass murder in recent history. |More pictures on page 8|

Robbers, burglars and one streaker

By William | Skinny | Alexander Nawwwww! Uh hun! Couldn't he!

IPD Officer B. Tirmenstein, on a "disturbance" run Monday night at 29th and Central, came upon a bunch of gawkers, but they weren't watching a brawl or arguement.

His report notes that when police arrived around 7:30 p.m., there was a young black male running like mad in the area, not suspicious looking because of his jogging, but definitely out of order because he wasn't wearing a single stitch of clothing.

Eventually the nude man. later identified as a 25-year-old Indianapolis resident, was booked on public indency and disorderly conduct charges. But not before he rode on the hood of a shocked passerby's car and shattered the window of a police squad car.

According to the police narrative, the man sprinted for a while in the 300 and 400 blocks of East 29th before jumping on the hood of a moving vehicle and riding to 29th and Central.

After being subdued, he was placed in the back of a squad rar, but managed somehow to kick out the rear window. This brought on a scuffle, and according to authorities, the man was subdued this time by being chained to a telephone post before being transported to Marion County Jail

Elsewhere on the weekend police blotter, there are the "routine" robberies, burglaries and assaults, not so routine to investigating police and incon venienced victims

Fifty seven year old Isabelle Ezell reported she was robbed at gunpoint by a gang of teenagers while waiting for a traffic signal Monday evening at 30th and Boulevard.

According to police, the four made away with the victim's purse, running through a nearby yard. According to them, there were four of the youths, one with a revolver, who approached her car around 5:30

The four are said to have approached the car, waiting for the light to change, from the rear. One worked his way

If you are facing problems on your job or in your personal life, control your temper, especially with the law. Drive with care. Have and enjoy your birthday season. God be with you, who are you with?

This is a good time for writing letters, reading a good book, or going to a deep movie. Communications with brothers and sister(s) should be at a high, with deeper understanding of each other, as well as, your close friends. In your life you will be looking for a deeper understanding with your mate. Deal openly and honestly. God be with you.

Travel will be on the minds of many of you, make sure that you can afford it. This weekend is a very lucky period for many of you. In your encounters with your mate and others close to you, make sure you are dealing on a deeper level of awareness, not only with yourself but others as well. If you have had or having domestic problems, this is the month to work for a better understanding with each other. Communicate what you feel. You do not need to suffer by holding in what must be said. Love is the key and so is God.

Making changes and getting your life in order with those around you, is where your head should be, not high on drugs. You must take care of your business without negative influences, be it your own or from others. Do not wait until the end of the year. You know that you do not like being forced. A planned action is much better than force, plan carefully and use your farsight...God! We all have free will. CAPRICORN

If you have gotten yourself into a situation that you feel locked into, you must look deep into your innerself and your outer world to make sure that you are where you should be. The mind and soul are looking for a positive way of relating to the world around you. Find time to be alone and think clear without negativeness in your life. You must deal honestly and give love. AQUARIUS

Luck! If you have been out of work, this is another area that you are lucky in, at this time. If you feel the need to make plans on starting new projects, this is the time, do not sit back and let opportunities pass you by. One area that you need to watch is forcing others to think as you do. We all have our own path that we must go. With free will, make sure yours is positive. Love thy neighbor with understanding for them. Look Deep and think clear, and love God. PISCES

In order to make any changes, you must know yourself. Do not think that true love is a fantasy, just because your present situation is not in order. I am not talking about all of you. You know who you are. Live for understanding with your innerself and God. We all need guidance and we all have a path from the almighty, God. Fill your life with love. You must know yourself. God is the best helper I know.

Your energy will be picking up, use it to your advantage with a positive attitude with those close to you, as well as, your outer world. Love is the key to God and yourself. Anything done unnecessary is a waste. Sex is to be a regenerating factor, first deal with the mind and soul of your mate: for if you lay down in gasoline, you will get up smelling like it. Think from within, your answers are there and so is God.

If you are one of those bull headed Taurus', you must give the other person a chance. Everyone does not have your down to earth abilities. Understanding is the key. Love is the answer to a positive life. God understands you, we must all understand the laws of God. This is a good time of year to get your head in order. We all know that earth is solid and can be dependable. Stay positive. Love is the key, give to God, the Boss.

We all need and must give love if we want to live a good life. If you want love you must give it without expecting anything in return; for love will come in other areas. Luck is ascending on many of you. Make sure you are not being negative with those around you. You will only block the path that God has planned for you. Control the negative side of you. This is your time for advancement, think deeper.

This is a good weekend for traveling and for getting your home and family in order. If you need to winterize your home start shopping now. Make sure you have what you need before it gets cold. If you live in an apartment, what about your mother and the other family members? You must help. No time for negative attitudes. Love is the key. You do not need money to be rich, just God.

The sex revelation is just about over. You must understand that sex is only a small percentage of a marriage relationship. Any relationship that starts out with sex will not and can not last. Why waste your time, mind and soul for sex? The mind and soul are more important than sex. Use control and make your life a positive one. This is a very good month, use it positive. God is watching, are you?

Joe Turner in hot pursuit of new Congressional seat

The inimitable Rev. Joe Turner, always good for a terse statement on current political issues, isn't shying away from the newly-established 10th Congressional District, expected to be a hot bed of contention later.

In fact, Turner, no novice either when it comes to announcing his candidacy, let it be known this week he's running for the U.S. seat.

Literature circulated this week on the minister's behalf noted: "The so-called status quo probably will not support Reverend Joe Turner because they can not control him. Reverend Turner is not a radical, not a militant, but rather one who stands on firm convictions with knowledge.

The latter statement can't be disputed. In recent years, Joe Turner has entered his name repeatedly for high office, spoken out on everything from the school desegregation suit to neighborhood problems, and traveled to Washington at will.

Success in getting on the hallot for the new congressional seat would be his biggest triumph. Constitutents are still brewing in some areas over the district's establishment by the 1981 General Assembly.

It's made up primarily of sections from the 11th District and the 5th District. The 11th, with incumbent Andy Jacobs. gets a healthy black vote, while the 5th, Dave Evans' constituency, includes all-white Mar-

No wonder complaints from certain quarters it's a nasty move to ward off any possibility of a predominantly black District, thus making sure a black Congressman will never be elected from it.

The announcement didn't deal with the legality bickering. "Reverend Turner contends that a Democratic Congress is stupidly permitting a Republican President dietate to it. We need Congressmen who are

Angola has appealed to the United Nations for help in repelling the recent, large-scale deep reinvasion of its territory and the continued occupation of Namibia by fascist South

Well, as you know, I just returned from visiting both South Africa and Angola, including a region of previous invasion by South African troops and American mercenaries. I met with Angola's brilliant 43-year-old President, Jose dos Santos, and he warned of this pending invasion. He begged to know why the United States insists on siding with South Africa, against pract; cally all other nations of the world, on the question of Namibian independence.

My findings in Africa further convinced me of what are the two greatest dangers now facing Africa. First, is the neo-colonial greed of United States and European big business. Second, is the belligerent intransigence of the fascist South African government, Without these nine instances of U.S. encouragement, I do not believe South Africa would have again challenged the courage and commitment to freedom of Angolans and Namibians.

After all, South Africa was defeated in its last American supported invasion attempt in 1979. In fact, while in Angola, I saw American arms captured from South African forces.

Let me list the nine instances of the Reagan Administration's support of the racist, anti-Christian, brutal South African regime: 1.) The Reagan Administration vetoed sanctions against South Africa, proposed last April by Third World nations. 2.) It has upgraded military attaches between the United States and South Africa. 3.) It is training South African coast guardsmen. 4.) It s encouraging increasing United States investments in and imports from South Afriew 5.) It has established friendly sports relations with South Africa, as indicated by the United States granting visas to South Africa's Rugby team, to play in Chicago on September 19th, through South African competition and by all other I am ashamed to report, that African nations and most other the fascist South African nations of the world. 6.) Reagan personally has received top South African fascist leaders in REagan's Administration has evaded UN Resolution 435, which requires South Africa to permit immediate free elections under UN supervision, in Namibia. 8.) He has called for repeal of the Clark amendment which prohibits U.S. military aid for South Africian backed counter revolutionary violence in Angola. 9.) On technicalities, he is learing on two prominent South African exiles: Professor Dennis Brutus, of North western University (with tenure of 10 years), is under order to leave the United States; and Professor Cosmo Pieterse, of Ohio State University (with tenure of almost 10 years) was refused a re-entry visa to the United States last

At a time when school is about to resume, it seems most appropriate that industry speak clearly to students, teachers, and potential future employees about job opportunities, education, and career planning

We expect the problems of the business world to become increasingly complicated, and expect that the solutions to these problems will not be found easily. But, we expect to hire, train, transfer and promote people who set high standards and goals. People who would like to help lead us into an uncertain future.

We are looking for a few good men - and women - who believe the definition of luck is when opportunity meets personal preparedness.

Importanties for service began to mexeuse for Lunise. He success in directing the program for younger girls of the Phyllis Wheatley Branch YWCA through the congestation of 15 public schools plus Attacks casulted in a participating membership of two thousand programs and enthusiasts

Early in the 1950's the mortation was extended to Living by Mrs. Fredunia Stewart Temple of the managing family of The Indianapolis Recorder to assist them in fund raising for The Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund Louise complied with this request and pass a "Coffee Mour" one Sunday evening which netted more than $1500. The numer whom she called upon to assist her as spinisirs enjoyed the experience so much that they voted to remain together us an organization, which resulted in the formal organization of The Kelcorder Woman Sponsors, an auciliary organization to Recorder Churities, in December 1951.

The opportunity most gratifying to her and about which Louise Batties feels most humble was her experience as a member of The City's First Human Rights Commission. She was appointed to membership on this commission by Mayor Alex M. Clark. From this vantage point, she raised the question of discrimination in all of the hospitals; her husband, Dr. Paul A. Batties, had been the first to have been appointed to the staff of the Indianapolis General Huspital, now called the Wishard Memorial, and it was discovered that Dr. H.N. Middleton held privileges at St Vincent Hospital: otherwise hospital privileges were denied all physicians of color, nurse training was not to Negro women and girls, nor were putients "of color admitted to hospitals anywhere in the city except at the Indianapolis City Hospital and in the menial atmosphere of the basement of Methodist Hospital!

The outspoken voice that day of Louise Batties with reporters present led to widespread publicity on the part of all local newspapers with immediae response from all local huspitals declaring "open doors" and change of policy. eliminating hard lines of racial discrimination! It was beautiful! Louise has said, "It was a great moment for me if there had been no other!" For this she was cited on The Indianapolis Recorder Human Rights Honor Roll.

ENOUGH? MIND YOUR MEASURES NOTE TO PARENTS: The article below explains the art of measuring and why careful measuring is important in cooking.

The act of measuring, however, can lead to more than tasty s-it can be instrumental in helping a child understand fractions. It is so much easier to learn by seeing and doing than just by reading. We all know that 12 plus 14 equals 14, but such things are often difficult for a youngster to grasp. Let your youngster experiment to find out how many ways there are to make I whole cup—using halves, thirds and quarters. And how many cups it takes to fill his milk glass, his cocoa cup, a sauce pan. With this sort of learning through experimentation. your child will learn to understand fractions ... in a fraction of the time it might normally take.

The people who create recipes experiment a lot to get them to taste just right. They try all sorts of ingredients, in many different quantities, before they are satisfied. When a recipe finally is printed in a newspaper, magazine or book, it contains just exactly what is needed ... just enough salt, just enough sugar, just enough milk, just enough everything. So when you follow a recipe to make a meal, you have to be careful to add the right amounts, too. Not too much, not too little. but just enough. Measuring correctly is one of the most important parts of cooking. To help you, there are many standard measuring tools. There are cups made especially for measuring liquids, and others that are best for dry ingredients, and there are spoons to measure small amounts of things. If you use the right tool, measuring is easy. Measuring Liquids. Measuring cups for liquids are usually glass or plastic so you can see through them, and they have a spout for easy pouring. The measurements are marked on the side. If a recipe calls for 1/4 cup of milk, slowly pour milk into the measuring cup until it comes up to the 1/4 mark. (Bend down so your eye is at the same level as the mark you need to reach. Measuring Dry Ingredients. Measuring cups for dry ingredients are usually metal or plastic and they usually come in sets of four. These are used to measure ingredients like flour and sugar. The largest holds exactly I cup, the next will hold 12 cup, the next 13 cup, and the smallest 14 cup. The cups are usually marked, so it will be easy to tell which is which. To measure dry ingredients exactly, select the proper size measuring cup (if you need 14 cup of sugar, use the cup marked 14) and fill it heaping full. Now take a tool with a very straight edge (spatula or the straight blade of a table knife) and level off the ingredients, so they come to the top of the cup. If a recipe calls for 23 cup of something, you'll need to use the cup marked in, but use it twice. If the recipe calls for 4 cup of something, you can use the cups marked 1/2 and 1/4, because 1/2 plus 1/4 equals 1/4.

Using Measuring Spoons. When small amounts of ingredients are needed, measuring spoons are used. These, like measuring cups usually come in sets of four: I tablespoon, I teaspoon, 1/2 teaspoon, and 14 teaspoon. Measuring spoons can be used both for liquid ingredients and dry ingredients. If you use them for liquids, pour very carefully to avoid spills. If you use them for dry ingredients, heap them full and then level them off, just as you do when you use a measuring cup for dry ingredients. And if a recipe calls for % teaspoon, use the 1/2 teaspoon and the 1/4 teaspoon. It works just like adding fractions.

Tricky Stuff. Some ingredients are not liquids, and they are not dry either. How do you measure them? Let's use margarine as an example. If you are making a KRAFT Macaroni and Cheese Dinner you need 14 cup margarine. Stick margarine usually has markings on the wrapper that will tell how much will equal 4 cup.

But if it comes in a plastic tub, you will need to measure it yourself. It's easy if you remember that 4 cup plus 4 cup equals 1 cup. All you need to do is fill a liquid measuring cup to the 34 mark with water, and then drop in spoonfuls of margarine until the water level rises to the I cup mark; when that happens, you know you have 4 cup of the margarine. Lift it out with a slotted spoon so the water can run off, and add it to your other ingredients.

cton, president of International Marketin large corporations, consulting, vice-preside business and now president of his own firm.

The Indiana Regional Minority Supplier Development Council is an organization whose primary objective is to increase the utilization of minority owned business as increase the utilization of minority owned business as sources of supply. The IRMSDC strives to achieve this objective by bringing the majority representative together with the minority supplier and by providing the minority supplier with the necessary technical assistance and guidance to secure and fulfill corporate contracts.

In 1979, in Indianapolis, a group of concerned citizens from the majority business community, the minority business community, and organizations representing minority interest met and organized Indiana's first minority mutualize trade fair the Business Opportunity Fair These for ority interest met and organized Indiana's first minority olier trade fair, the Business Opportunity Fair. These far ghted businesses and organizations saw that the gap between majority and minority companies was not closing. The Opportunity Fair was seen as a vehicle to close this gap. The Executive Director of IRMSDC is Donald E. Jones. Born in Nashville, Tennessee, Don Jones has been a resident of Indianapolis since childhood and has served as Executive Director of IRMSDC and various other organizations which were predecessors to IRMSDC since 1972. Don Jones also worked for the Indianapolis Business Development Foundation (IBDF). Don Jones is a graduate of Tennessee State University. The following is Mr. Jones view of

IRMSDC, its purpose, and goals:
"The regional purchasing councils' program has dealt with opening the doors of purchasing departments of corporate America to minority businesses who have been unable to access them in the past. This approach produced many positive results, and has helped expand many minority firms by presenting them with new market areas. Through the education of both minority supplier and corporate purchasing agent as to the advantages of new markets and new sources of supply respectively, the regional council network has increased the amount of purchases from minority owned firms from slightly over $86 million in 1972 to a projected goal of $2.6 billion in 1980." (These are nation wide figures for all RMSDC's)

"As Executive Director of the IRMSDC. I have for a long time encouraged supplier development among our member-ship. I welcome the challenge to expand our program into developing more viable minority suppliers. Minority suppliers are growing on a daily basis in experience, knowledge, and business skills, as a result of our program. Through the vast resources of corporate America, minority suppliers may be able to continue to grow. Together, corporate America and minority supplier alike can enjoy a relationship of mutual benefit by participating in the programs of the regional council."

The national chairman of the National Minority Supplier oment Council is Augustine R. Marusi, Chairman, Executive Committee, Borden Inc., and the chairman of the Policy and Planning Committee, is Thomas A. Murphy, Chairman, General Motors Corporation. The following is a quote from these gentlemen:
"The revitalization of American business and industry n this decade is of critical importance to the future of our nation and the free market system. Business and government must work together as never before to create working capital, decent jobs and business opportunities. Every segment of our great society must be included in this cooperative effort."

"The National Minority Supplier Development Council is a benefits. It has provided access for qualified and qualifiable minority owned businesses to major corporations and institutions since its formation in Chicago in 1972. Its renowned training programs for minority entrepreneurs. seminars for company buyers, trade fairs and match making services produce measurable results

"But we have a long way to go. More than 18 percent of ouf population are minority citizens, yet only 4 percent ofour sses are minority owned, and less than 1 percent of gross business receipts go to minority entrepreneurs. The goal is to assist minority firms in making the transition from slow-growth industries - where most of them are now clustered - into high technology markets where expansion is possible. Working in partnership with government, the Council is committed to achieveing this goal.

The Indiana Regional Minority Supplier Development Council will hold its Indiana Business Opportunity Fair on September 30, 1981. The fair will run from 11:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., and will be held at the Indiana State Fairgrounds, Farm Bureau Building. Presently, half of the booths have been committed. Judging from the response so far, the trace fair looks to become a complete sell out. There will be non-Indiana based companies as well as Indiana based companies displaying their products and services to

Tickets for majority corporations representatives will be distributed soon throughout Indiana and the surrounding

Sugarholics are big heart trouble risks

The average American eats 85 pounds of sugar a year, according to Catherine Wotecki of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. That includes sucrose (table sugar) and sweeteners such as corn syrup and dextrose found in processed foods

In testing people whose genes make them especially sensitive to sugar, the Agriculture Department's Sheldon Reiser found that high-sugar diets increased cholesterol and related fatty substances called triglycerides.

"Those genetically sensitive people have a higher risk of heart disease and diabetes" if they eat high-sugar diets, Reiser said.

"Sucrose changes the intestines over a period of time," he explained, and stimulates the production of certain

Ian MacDonald of Guy's Hospital Medical School in London has been comparing sugar in the diet with glucose, a type of sugar not found in food but produced during the

He also found that sucrose might be bad for athletes because it raises the body's levels of lactic acid, the chemical that causes muscles to become sore when they've been

Higher income households off tood stamps

Eliminating higher income households from the Food Stamp program is the first of many changes to be implemented to reduce food stamp costs in Indiana and nationally.

Effective October 1, house holds with income above 120 percent of the poverty level will not be eligible to participate. Latest Bureau of Census statistics established the poverty level for a family of four (4) at $8,410 annually. Annual gross income for a family of four (4) in excess of $10,933 would disqualify the household from participation.

Under the present law, household eligibility is based on net income at 100 percent of the poverty level, or gross income $13,500 with authorized deducations to arrive at net income of $8.410. Other changes to follow are Adjustment in the level of stamps based on cost of living every 15 months instead of every 12 months.

Households applying during the second half of the month would receive only one-half of that month's allotment as opposed to the total month's allotment under the present

Strikers will not be eligible to participate in the program unless participating prior to the strike. Benefits of housewill be frozen and cannot be increased during the strike period.

Individuals may be disqualified from the program for "intentional misrepresentation." Currently, proof of fraud results in a 3-month disqualification.

King III Freedom Fund address set in Marion

MARTIN LUTHER KING III

The "king's" due in Marion

Emulating his martyred father as a much sought after public speaker, Martin Luther King III will address the Marion NAACP Chapter Freedom Fund dinner October

His speech, and the banquet for that matter, will hopefully help rejuvenate the local NAACP chapter, one of Indiana's oldest

"Some of our membership has become somewhat stagnate over the years," says Thomas Wise, one of two dinner chairmen, "and we're hoping this will help revivie activity here.

The effort is being wholeheartedly supported by the Indianapolis branch which is making tickets available at its office, and has promised to have a sizeable delegation present. Ditto for the State Conference of Branches, with dent Franklin E. Breckenbridge of Elkhart listed on the speakers roster.

Martin Luther King III is respected as a third-generation outspoken critic of racism and other social ills. Unlike his legendary grandfather and father, he is not a minister yet, but recently told Jetg Magazine he is postponing his law degree studies to participate in a management training program of the prestigious Dunfey Hotel in Atlanta.

RACISM: Early childhood causes

Black parents were at one time the same black children who were indoctrinated into the philosophy of black inferiority. The black parent loves the child so dearly that he/she is excessively protective. Just as the white parent will not allow the white child to swim in deep water, so does the black parent protect the black child from the dangers of society: "Be nice to white people," "Don't argue," "White. will never let a black person get very far in life." These statements made to the child by the black parent carry powerful messages that are transmitted to the child: 1) The parent has accepted black inferiority as a fact, and 2) The duty of the loving black parent is to protect the child from insult and embarrassment.

This is done by directing the child to job interviews for traditionally black jobs which are lower paying and without status, sending the child to an inferior school where the child will not be confronted with embarrassing racism. The loving parent's only intention is to protect the child from the trauma of rejection.

Subconsciously, the parent actually believes that blacks are inferior. The American system has done its job well it has industrinated the parent who responds to racism with almost reflex behavior. Protectiveness when whites are present. Reaffirmation of white superiority with statements that point out white arthevement. Allowing the child to watert thours of television that serves the purpose of confirming black internetty.

The parent is living and protective. The parent is unaware of the devastating psychological effect of that live. when it is improperly applied.

But, it doesn't end there. When the black some daughter gues out into weiety to attempt to artieve surress, family and friends respond with these questioning and insecure statements: "Diel they turn you down for the july!" "Dil het they found something wrong, didn't they?" "Did you do alright or was something about you enthersed." "I'll has they really didn't want to see you, did they?"

These and anular remarks represent the insecurity and feetings of inferiority that are nampann in the black community. They represent the indirect and usually imenuscious, marrier in which hearts and white society have succeeded in industributing black people with White huperners and Black Interners.

This constant questioning of the social involvement of the this is the chip saw that failure was presupposed and m a series greener emined. If the child Mid surged it was purely concidental and accurred in spice of the wealth of adversity and behavioral conditioning.

In this you are by no means unique. There is so much to be taught about giving and the reasons why one is asked to give. There is a great need to inform the givers about the need to make those who receive accountable and responsible for that which is given. To make it more simple and easy to understand, I am saying that your concern in the area of giving is twofold:

A The attitude in giving B) The accountability for that which is given.

Perhaps because you in your experience have not seen a good example of financial responsibility in the churches that you belonged to, you have reacted in the way a concerned but noninformed person is subject to react. ### Leonard's speed is Indiana Central what makes him move

Welterweight Champion Sugar ship. Ray Leonard in the ring, the first thing that becomes apparent is: the man possesses speed. It's evident in the lightning-quick feet, as well as in the swift, exploxive hands which score continuously against an opponent.

It was this speed (and an endearing personality) that captured the American public during the 1976' Summer Olympic Games in Montreal as Leonard outclassed six opponents in 13 days en route to a gold medal in the junior welterweight division. And, although speed is Sugar's sweetest attribute, it was his blood. determination and toughness which enabled him to score his most resounding triumph: an avenging eighth-round TKO over arch-rival Roberto Duran in New Orleans to recapture the welterweight crown.

That victory, plus Ray's recent June 25th ninth-round knockout over Ayub Kalule. gave the Palmer Park, Md. resident two championships (WBC Welterweight and WBA Junior-Middleweight). And he hopes to become the first boxer since Henry Armstrong to hold three titles simultaneously.

But first, Leonard must face the challenge of WBA Welterweight king Thomas Hearns. The two champions will square 16, at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas to unify the welterweight division. Local boxing fans will be able to see the fight live on closed-circuit television at Market Square Arena.

To the public, Sugar Ray has come to mean more than just left hooks and right crosses. His warmth and sincerity have made him an American sporting hero. His poise and speaking ability enhances the charm. and the combination has enabled Ray to develop a parallel career in broadcasting, which has included fight commentary for NBC and Home Box Office.

One notices early on that Sugra Ray Leonard, the personable gentleman, smiles most when he wins, which means 30 out of 31 professional fights. Sugar Ray has 21 KO's to his credit, turned pro in Feburary, 1977 and won his first 28 bouts. including a 15 round knockout of Wilfred Benitez to win the

"He was what we call a 'natural'. But even today, Ray's like two different people. Out of the ring, he's a sweet, lovable person. In the ring, he's a killer. If he hurts his opponent, he'll finish him real quick. And it doesn't matter who's standing in front of him. I remember him breaking his brother Roger's nose three times."

Following Leonard's first defense of his welterweight crown, a fourth-round KO of Davey "Boy" Green, came the "Brawl in Montreal" - the first encounter with Roberto Duran. That night, Sugar Ray abandoned his style of speed and quickness and chose to slug it out with the Panamanian conoff on Wednesday, September tender. The change in tactics proved costly as Duran was awarded a close-but-unanimous 15-round decision and with it, Coach Bill Bless, launching his 10th campaign at the helm of the Indiana Central University football team, will again rely on a run-oriented offense Conference superstar Mike Wishneyski.

Traditionally, Bless' Greyhounds have not been shy about rushing, and he isn't going to change now-not with Wishnevski around. Wishnevski, a 6-1, 215-pound junior, ranked number eight in the nation among NCAA Dia new Greyhound individual game. single season rushing record.

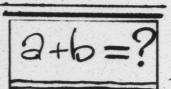

A total of 32 lettermen are A total of 32 lettermen are back afor the Greyhounds, who posted a 3-3-1 HCC mark and an overall 5-4-2 ledger. They managed a tremendous come from-behind 28-21 upset win over Franklin, but suffered a 7-6 loss to crosstown rival Butler. And, the Greyhounds tied Valparaiso when the Crusaders scored with no time remaining.

Eight starters return from the Heartland Collegiate Conference's number one rushing unit, including full back Mike Wishnevski. Greg Scarpone and Mark Gilvin will return as halfback and signal caller. Linemen include Wade Hall (6-4, 285), tight end Bob Brewer (6-4, 216), guard Jeff Hauswald (6-1, 220), and center Jim Landwerlen (6-1, 220).

Defensively, two secondteam all-HCC players are back in Tim Motsinger and Pat Parks. Motsinger had 65 solo tackles, 52 assists, 3 interceptions, 4 quarterback sacks, forced 3 fumbles and recovered one fumble last season. Pakrs, also a junior, posted 63 tackles, 60 assists, 2 interceptions, and 1 quarterback sack. However, quarterback sack. However, the one sore spot will be a gap on the defensive line from the loss of several outstanding players. "Can the 6 returning lettermen starters and new linemen fill the old shoes?" will be the key question; the answer may be speed, agility and strength. Coach Bless is the winningest football coach in the history of Indiana Central with a record of 52 wins, 35 losses, and 3 ties over the nine-year period. In all, Bless will return 32 lettermen. "We are a young team with excellent returning talent and several fantastic recruits!"

says Bless. "Optimistic" is the key word that describes the 1981 Greyhound football season. The Greyhounds will be contenders for the Heartland Collegiate Conference title and hope to recapture the Top Dog Trophy.

batting average of .333. He is at .328 this season, but on a .476 tear since the baseball strike

As one examines Carew's lifetime record, a number of incredible stats emerge. In his first two seasons with Minnesota Twins, Carew batted .292 and .273. In the last dozen years, he has not dropped under the .300 mark. Furthermore he has not sunk below .318 since 1971. He is seeking his eighth batting title and his consecutive year above

But this is not all of the story on Rod Carew.

Carew owns a career .300 batting average against every club in the Major League. Unlike George Brett, who can't hit above .225 vs. Oakland and Cleaveland, 'Hot Rod' has everyone nonplus. His lowest mark is .305 vs. the Angels and his best .390 against the Twins, Ironically California is his current team and the Twins were his past employer. He is hitting a big .358 vs. the Cleaveland Indians.

Another facet of Rod Carew's game is that he has stolen 16 times in his corner, which is featuring Heartland Collegiate also tops. Furthermore Carew's is a .335 hitter vs. righthanded pitchers and .334 vs. lefthanders. He is at .321 at home and .336 on the road. Only in July (.296) did Carew not bat over .300 mark.

No active player in the game today can match those numbers. According to Carew he "seriously doubts if anyone will vision II schools with 1106 for a very long time." Because yards last season, thus setting consistency is the name of the returnee John Gause (6-0, 190) will push for a starting job here. The tackle spots are solid with the return of John Misiors (6-1, 230) and Jerry Such (6-1, 210), the latter missed most of the '80 season with an injury. Mark Malott (5-10, 200) has the quickness and strength to plug the middle from his middle guard position.

Graduation took a heavy toll at the linebacker spots, leaving only Ron Leffler (6-0, 215) as a returning letterman. But the outlook isn't bleak here since Jeff Shake (6-2, 200), a letterman tackle in '80, is moving into the linebacker slot to make room for the return of Such to the rush line. Dean Underwood (6-1, 190) and Mark Albrecht (5-10, 180) are a pair of secondyear performers who will chalnge for work as linebackers.

Starters Scott Grove (6-0, 175), Keith Kincaid (5-10, 172) and Mike Staudt (5-6, 170), Jeff May (5-10, 180) and Artie Mitchell (5-9, 180).

Bob Hoop returns to handle the placekicking chores along with Greg Wilhite. Houston can be expected to take care of some of the punting. Bormannia a standout on kickoff returns and Grove is a consistent performer on punt returns.

WASHINGTON, D.C .--More than 1000 anti-poverty advocates will meet here September 2-6 at the Sheraton Washington Hotel to chart new directions for community action during the 1980s. The National Community Action Agency Executive Directors Association (NCAAEDA) is convening its 11th Annual Conference just weeks before the Community Services Administration (CSA) closes its doors. For 17 years CSA and it sprecursor, the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), were the focal points of federal activity to address the root causes of poverty. During its last session, however, Con-

Instead of using more money for prisons, Hargrove said more should be devoted to community education programs such as teaching people to report crimes accurately and how to use the justice system for their protection.

Hargrove, who retired as a sargeant after 20 years on the New York City police force, called the task force report on gun control "modest". The task force urged passage of a federal law requiring a waiting period on purchases of handguns plus a ban on importing parts that can be assembled into cheap weapons known as "Saturday night specials."

The law should be simple and complete," Hargrove said, "forbidding the manufacture and importation of handguns in America."

Calling crime and fear of it "a permanent part of black urban life in america," Hargrove cited the need for more black police officers because they would be more capable of empathizing with black residents. He said minority h iring goals around the country have been "blocked by racisms and testing, which as always been a tool of
